MILAN, ITALY — IPACK-IMA has been rescheduled from May 2021 to May 3-6, 2022, in Milan, Italy, organizers announced.

“The decision to reschedule our event, IPACK-IMA, was not easy,” said Rossano Bozzi, chief executive officer of Ipack Ima srl. “After careful evaluations and insights we preferred to give priority to the needs of our exhibitors and visitors who are currently engaged, and we expect they are still for many months, in the management of a very tricky period.”

MEAT-TECH — the Ipack Ima trade show specialized in solutions for meat products and ready meals industry — will take place, simultaneously with TuttoFood, from May 17-20, 2021. Partnering with TuttoFood, the international exhibition dedicated to food product, with 3,079 exhibitors and 82,551 visitors in the latest edition, lays the foundations for a unique project in Europe for the food chain.
